Having a slippery floor is not just a surface problem but it is also a risk to the safety of those who walk on it. Slipperiness problems are typical of areas most subject to water such as bathrooms, pool sides, terraces, and outdoors.

Faber has water-based, anti-slip treatments that are specifically formulated to increase the surface grip of many surfaces such as ceramic, stoneware, granite, quartz and all siliceous materials, which eliminates any slippery problems that may arise.

THE FABER & VETRO POWER SOLUTION

Vetro Power Anti-Slip Solutions against slippery floors is an incredible measure that can be taken to avoid the possible onset of slipping injuries. We offer the best-in-class INVISIBLE WATER-BASED ANTI-SLIP TREATMENT FOR WET AREAS by increasing the slipping resistance of the surface in wet conditions. The treatment creates a superficial nano-erosion that, without changing the original look of the material, it increases the grip of the surface. Our products act directly on the surface of the materials to which it is applied, creating micro-erosions that are invisible to the eye and which boost the run-off of water to increase surface grip and therefore reduce slipperiness in wet conditions.
